

Minor in Biomedical Research

Biomedical Research is a multidisciplinary minor that includes areas of study across STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics). The field of Biomedical Research is an act of discovery that gives the researcher an appreciation for how life works and the knowledge to improve health and reduce disease burden.

Code	Title	Semester Hours
Requirements for minor:
ST 1110	Introduction to Biomedical Research	1
ST 3110	Biomedical Workshops	1
ST 3120	Mentored Manuscript Writing	1
BL 3125	Seminars in Biological Science	1
BL 3130	Scientific Methodology & Analysis	1
ST 3230	Research in Biomedical Sciences	2
or ST 4230	Research in Biomed Sciences
Select 11 hours of the following:		11
BIO 3410	Biostatistics for Life Science
BL 3125 Seminars in Biological Science
BL3xxx/4xxx Choose from approved CURE/Inquiry courses (e.g. BL 3440, BL 3464)
CH3xxx/4xxx Choose from approved CURE/Inquiry courses (e.g. CH 3423, CH 4350/CH 4150)
CH 4125	Chemical Research
or CH 4225	Chemical Research
or CH 4325	Chemical Research
CS 3300	Introduction to Programming for Data Analytics (in Python)
EG 1213	C Programming for Engineering
EG 1113	C Programming for Engineering Lab
EG 1294	Python Programming for Eng
EG 1194	Python Programming for EG Lab
ES 2345	Experimental Design
ES 3310	Scientific and Technical Writing
ES3xxx/4xxx Choose from approved CURE/Inquiry courses (e.g. ES 3340, ES 4400))
PS3xxx/4xxx Choose from approved CURE/Inquiry courses (e.g. PS 3383, 4163)
PY3xxx/4xxx Choose from approved CURE/Inquiry courses
ST 3140	U-RISE Training in Biomedical Research
ST 3130	Research in Biomedical Sciences
or ST 3330	Research in Biomedical Sciences
or ST 3430	Research in Biomedical Sci
ST 4130	Research in Biomed Sciences
or ST 4230	Research in Biomed Sciences
or ST 4330	Research in Biomedical Sciences
Other Requirements:
CITI Training Module: Responsible Conduct of Research
Minimum of 2 semesters/summers participating in same mentored research project
Publication quality product: research thesis or manuscript including pre-prints, micropublications, or undergraduate research journal (that may or may not be published)
Public poster presentation of mentored research at event approved by research mentor
Strongly recommended: weekly attendance at research seminar
Total Semester Hours		18
